Foreword

Children are our most valuable resource. The investment we make in them today will benefit all of California tomorrow. Early intervention services make a difference in the lives of infants and toddlers at risk of or with developmental delays or disabilities and their families.

Based on the needs of the child and family, early intervention services maximize the developmental potential of infants and toddlers with disabilities within the context of their daily routines and activities, increasing their potential to live independently and exercise their full rights as citizens. The earlier intervention is started, the more likely it is that the educational achievement and quality of life for children with disabilities will be higher.

The federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Part C, and the California Early Intervention Services Act ensure that infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families receive coordinated services early enough to make a difference. Meeting the complex needs of infants with disabilities and their families involves the services and supports of multiple state and local agencies. To ensure maximum effectiveness, these services are coordinated, flexible, culturally responsive, accessible and, most importantly, responsive to the needs of the child and family.

In California, Early Start's system of early intervention services are intended to support and enhance the capability of every family with an infant or toddler with a disability to meet the special developmental needs of their child. Infants and toddlers with disabilities are an integral part of our communities and make a valuable contribution to society as a whole. Through Early Start, California is committed to support these children and families.

Purpose of the Central Directory

he Early Start Central Directory ensures that

- ◆ parents, family members, service providers, and members of the public, including those with disabilities, can get information on the early intervention resources available throughout the state in a timely and organized manner, and
- ◆ information regarding the nature and scope of these resources is available through telephone or written requests at state and local levels.

The Department of Developmental Services (DDS) annually updates and disseminates the Early Start Central Directory as a publication and also maintains the information on the DDS web site located at www.dds.ca.gov/earlystart/main/escentraldirectory.cfm. A toll-free information and referral telephone line, known as the Early Start BabyLine, is also maintained by DDS.

DDS collaborated with the State Departments of Education, Health Services, Mental Health, Social Services, and Alcohol and Drug Programs to identify the services and supports available through their respective agencies. Each agency maintains additional detailed information on the specific services that each provides statewide.

In local communities, family resource centers/networks, regional centers, and local education agencies maintain specific information about the private and public services available within their area. These local resources may include parent support groups; health care providers with knowledge about early intervention, and disabilities; special education, early intervention and preschool programs; regional center contacts and vendored services; advocacy organizations; and other related resources for infants and toddlers with special needs and their families.

If you cannot find the information you need about Early Start, call the Early Start BabyLine at 800/515-BABY, or visit our web site at www.dds.ca.gov/earlystart.

Overview of California Early Start

What is Early Start?

Early Start is California's system of early intervention services provided to infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families. It is a multiagency effort by the Department of Developmental Services and the California Department of Education that encourages partnerships between families and professionals, family support, and coordination of services. The statewide system of early intervention services is available throughout California and can be accessed through regional centers for developmental disabilities, county offices of education, local school districts, health or social service agencies, and family resource centers/networks in your community.

An important part of Early Start is the network of family resource centers and networks (FRC/Ns) that provide parent-to-parent contact, information about disabilities and early intervention, and assistance in accessing services. Phone contact, home or hospital visits, and support groups are all ways in which families might connect with experienced, knowledgeable parent “peers” through their local FRC/N.

Who is eligible?

Infants and toddlers from birth to 36 months of age may be eligible for early intervention services, if through documented evaluation and assessment, they meet one of the criteria listed below:

1. have a developmental delay in either cognitive, communication, social or emotional, adaptive, or physical and motor development including vision and hearing; or
2. have established risk conditions of known etiology with a high probability of resulting in delayed development; or
3. are at high risk of having a substantial developmental disability due to a combination of risk factors.

What are early intervention services?

Early intervention services are provided based on the developmental needs of the child, the concerns and priorities of the family, and the resources available to them. Services are provided within the context of the child and family's daily activities and routines. Eligible children and families may receive a variety of early intervention services; some children may need only one or two early intervention services. Early intervention services may include:

- assistive technology, including devices or services
- audiology or hearing services
- family training, counseling, and home visits
- health services necessary for a child to benefit from other early intervention services
- medical services for diagnosis and evaluation only
- nursing services
- nutrition services
- occupational therapy
- physical therapy
- psychological services
- respite services
- service coordination (case management)
- social work services
- special instruction
- speech and language services
- transportation and related costs necessary for a child to receive services
- vision services

Who provides services and supports?

Early intervention services are individually determined for each eligible infant or toddler and are provided, purchased, or arranged by a regional center or local education agency. Local education agencies are primarily responsible for services for infants with vision, hearing, and severe orthopedic impairments, including any combination of these solely low incidence disabilities. Regional centers are responsible for services for all other children eligible for Early Start. Family resource centers and networks provide parent-to-parent support, information, and referral for all families.

How much does it cost?

Early Start services are provided at no cost to families. Early Start is funded by federal and state funds. Other publicly-funded services may also be used. Private insurance is another resource that may be used to fund an early intervention service if the family will not incur a financial cost or loss of coverage of benefits. Use of private insurance is voluntary and requires the family's informed consent.

Are other services available?

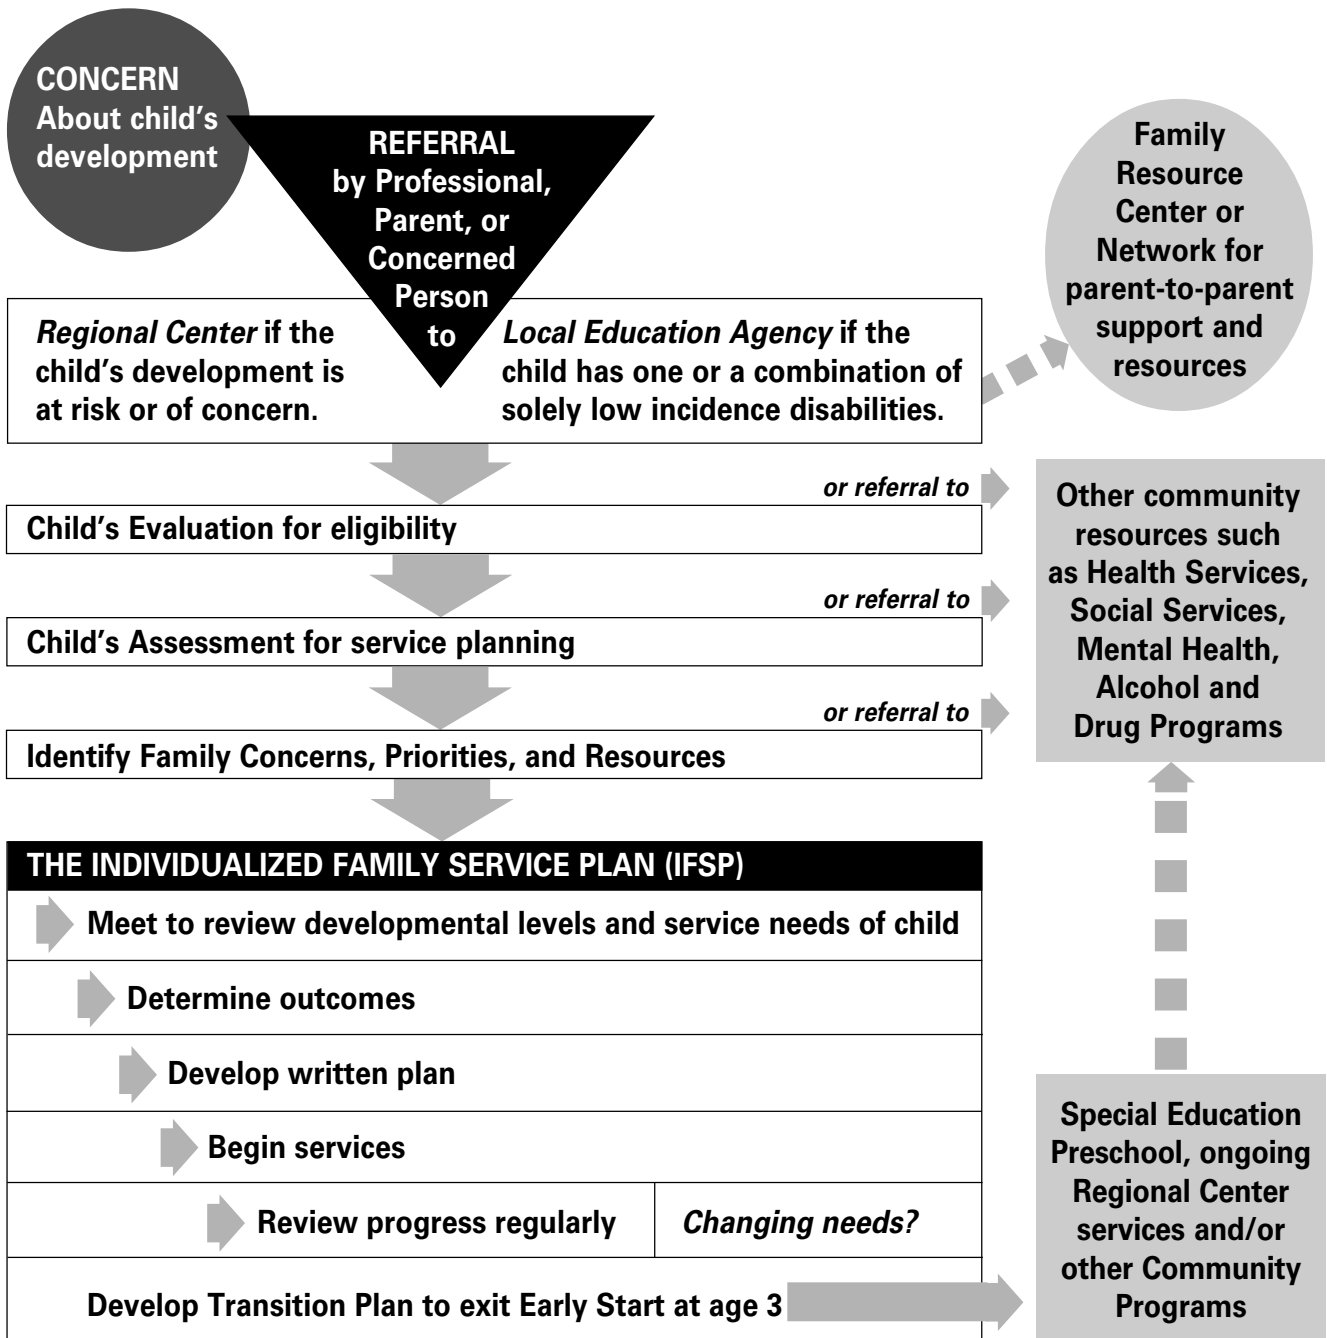

Yes. The Departments of Health Services, Mental Health, Social Services, and Alcohol and Drug Programs are State agencies that provide services and resources that may be of benefit. Descriptions of the services that these agencies provide are contained in this directory. Each agency determines eligibility for the services that it provides.

How do I access more information?

Call the regional center in your local area or 800/515-BABY, or visit www.dds.ca.gov/earllystart, for resource information or referral to local Early Start services and family resource centers and networks. Call 800/869-4337 for product information and free multilingual resources on early intervention.

What is the process for making a referral?

California Department of Developmental Services

The California Department of Developmental Services (DDS) provides leadership and direction to nonprofit corporations to ensure that infants, toddlers, children, and adults with developmental disabilities receive the services and supports they need as envisioned by the California Early Intervention Services Act and the Lanterman Developmental Disabilities Services Act. The disabilities of the children and adults served include mental retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, and related conditions and, for infants and toddlers under age three, this also includes being at risk for disabilities. DDS contracts with 21 regional centers that provide, arrange, or purchase services and supports at the local level.

Children and Family Services Branch

DDS, as lead agency for Early Start, administers and coordinates a wide array of services for eligible infants and toddlers who have or are at risk for a developmental delay or disability and their families. The Children and Family Services Branch coordinates California's early intervention service system. Under Part C of the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), DDS is responsible for the planning, development, implementation, and monitoring of the statewide system of early intervention services in collaboration with the California Department of Education. DDS administers all mandatory and discretionary components required under IDEA including public awareness, personnel development, and interagency agreements with participating agencies and community-based organizations. DDS is also responsible for implementing procedural safeguards that protect the rights of children and families and for receiving and resolving complaints.

DDS maintains a toll-free BabyLine and web site, which provides information on California's Early Start system of services, including resources and referral.

California Department of Developmental Services

Regional Centers

Infants and toddlers, from birth up to 36 months, at risk of or with developmental delays or disabilities may be eligible to receive services through California's 21 community-based regional centers. The Department of Developmental Services contracts with nonprofit corporations that operate regional centers.

Regional centers are the single point of entry into the service system that serves people with developmental disabilities across all ages. Regional centers provide intake, evaluation, and assessment to determine eligibility and service needs. They also provide service coordination, advocacy, information, referral, and an array of other services to eligible infants and toddlers and their families.

Early intervention services are provided, purchased, or arranged by regional centers based on the unique needs of the child and family. Early intervention services that are not available through other publicly-funded agencies are generally purchased from community service providers who are "vendored" by the regional center. In some communities, regional centers contract with local education agencies (LEAs) to provide special instruction and other related early intervention services through their early childhood special education programs to children served by regional centers.

Regional centers coordinate with LEAs and other local agencies and organizations in evaluation, assessment, development of individualized family service plans, and service provision. For children who are dually served by a regional center and an LEA, basic special education and related services are usually provided by the LEA. Either LEAs or regional centers may be designated to provide service coordination. The regional center may also provide additional early intervention services or other available State services based on the needs of the child and family.

Family Resource Centers and Networks

Families of infants and toddlers, from birth up to 36 months at risk of or with developmental delays and disabilities, can receive parent-to-parent support from family resource centers and networks. Family resource centers receiving Early Start funding actively collaborate with local regional centers and educational agencies and help many parents, families, and children access early intervention services.

California's Early Start family resource centers and networks (FRC/Ns) are staffed by parents who have children with special needs and provide information and parent-to-parent support. Each FRC/N is unique, reflecting the needs of their community. They may operate as independent sites or be based in regional centers, local education agencies, public health facilities, hospitals, or homes. Services are available in many languages and are culturally responsive to the needs of the individual family.

Family resource centers and networks contracted by the California Department of Developmental Services may provide:

- parent-to-parent and family support
- peer counseling and home visits
- information and referral
- public awareness
- parent education
- support services in many languages
- transition assistance
- support services in urban and rural communities

In addition, some FRC/Ns have newsletters, resource libraries, and websites, as well as parent and/or sibling support groups and telephone "warmlines" or "babylines."

Special Education Division

This Division is responsible for developing and coordinating the provision of free and appropriate programs to students with special education and related services needs throughout California. The Division administers Early Start services for infants and toddlers with solely visual, hearing, and severe orthopedic impairments, or any combination thereof.

The Division consults and collaborates with the Early Start lead agency, the Department of Developmental Services, and other state and local agencies to meet the requirements of Part C of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. The Division develops policies and administers programs that are coordinated by 116 special education local plan areas and are provided by local education agencies such as school districts and county offices of education.

CDE participates in compliance procedures, dispute resolutions, program monitoring, and training and technical assistance activities. These ongoing activities are within the context of the overall responsibilities of CDE's Special Education Division for oversight and support of early childhood special education programs for infants, toddlers, preschoolers, and their families, along with educational services to children birth to 22 years of age.

Procedural Safeguards Referral Service Unit

The Procedural Safeguards Referral Service Unit for children over age 3 provides technical assistance for parents and others, informing them of options for Part B dispute resolution. The intent is to provide access to information, define options, and facilitate linkage to local education agency processes.

Special Education Local Plan Areas

Infants and toddlers who have vision, hearing, and severe orthopedic impairments (or a combination of these disabilities) receive individually designed early intervention services from local education agencies (LEAs) such as school districts and county offices of education. Across the state, special education local plan area (SELPA) administrators coordinate early childhood special education programs, which include early intervention services.

Since 1980, state law included a partial requirement for early education programs to serve the number of infants and toddlers with disabilities that they served in 1980-81. LEAs also provide services to a number of additional children in order to continue to qualify for their current level of state funding.

LEAs provide early intervention services in the home, community settings, and centers. These services include special instruction, service coordination, family support, and other early intervention services identified in the child's individualized family service plan (IFSP). LEAs also coordinate with regional centers and other local agencies and organizations in evaluation, assessment, and development of IFSPs.

For children who are dually served by a regional center and an LEA, basic special education and related services are usually provided by the LEA. Either LEAs or regional centers may be designated to provide service coordination. The regional center may also provide additional early intervention services or other available State services based on the needs of the child and family.

he Department of Health Services (DHS), a collaborative Early Start partner, administers a range of programs that respond to the health and medical needs of children. The Children's Medical Services Branch (CMS) is a subdivision within DHS that oversees and supports programs that provide or fund preventive, diagnostic, and treatment services, including well-child assessments, immunizations, specialized health services, therapy, and rehabilitation services. CMS programs are designed to be responsive to children and families in greatest need, including infants and toddlers with disabilities and those at high risk for disabilities. Programs administered by CMS include:

- ◆ California Children Services (CCS)
Provides diagnostic evaluations, treatment services, physical and occupational therapy, and medical case management for anyone who is under 21 years of age, is a California resident, has an eligible physically disabling medical condition, and whose family meets specific income eligibility requirements.
- ◆ Child Health and Disability Prevention (CHDP)
Provides comprehensive health assessments, including vision, hearing, immunizations, physical examinations, and dental, nutritional, and developmental assessments to children under 19 years of age whose families meet specific low-income criteria and to children under 21 years of age who are enrolled in Medi-Cal.
- ◆ CCS High-Risk Infant Follow-Up Program
Follows graduates of CCS-approved neonatal intensive care units (NICUs) until age 2 and provides comprehensive physical examinations, vision and hearing assessment, developmental and psychosocial assessments, and referrals.
- ◆ Medically Vulnerable Infant Program (MVIP)
Provides home-based services to infants and their families following discharge from a CCS-approved NICU until the child reaches 3 years of age. Services include case management; referral; crisis intervention; advocacy; developmental assessment, monitoring, and intervention; parent counseling and education; and specialized therapeutic consultation and intervention.
- ◆ The California Newborn Hearing Screening Program
Offers parents of infants born in CCS-approved hospitals the opportunity to have their child screened for hearing loss. Access to rescreening, diagnostic evaluation, and treatment also is available. Infants identified with a hearing loss are linked to early intervention services through an established Early Start referral system.

→ California Department of Social Services

The California Department of Social Services (DSS) is an Early Start collaborative partner whose primary goals are to assist individuals to become financially, physically, emotionally, and socially independent; to prevent or remedy neglect, abuse, or exploitation of children and adults; and to provide appropriate home, community, or institutional care for those in need within the least restrictive environment possible.

In addition to administering programs that provide financial assistance for low-income families and dependent children, DSS directs several different programs collectively known as Child Welfare Services. The welfare and safety of children and of all family members must be maintained while strengthening and preserving the family whenever possible. Services are focused on the family as a whole; family strengths are identified, enhanced, and respected. In cases in which children must be removed from their families for reasons of health or safety, they are placed in the least restrictive, most homelike settings. Efforts are made to restore the family strengths so children can return to a home and community in which they are safe, healthy, wanted, and valued.

Social Services programs are administered by county and branch offices and provide local information on public and private social services available in each county.

California Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs

The Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs (ADP), an Early Start collaborative partner, directs and coordinates the statewide effort to prevent and reduce alcohol and drug abuse and their effects. The Department provides funding for county-administered and other alcohol and drug prevention and treatment services for persons who have, or are at risk of having, drug and alcohol problems. Intake and assessment for services vary at the local level and may be based on self-report, court order, or past history of substance abuse.

Generally, ADP treatment programs focus on adults. However, some local programs may offer services for younger children as part of other treatment programs for women and families. Counties place a particular emphasis on prevention and treatment programs for pregnant women through the ADP Perinatal Services Network (PSN). The provision of PSN services has increased awareness of and involvement in the early intervention service delivery system.

The county drug or alcohol program can provide information on services available within each county.

→ California Department of Mental Health

The Department of Mental Health (DMH), also an Early Start collaborative partner, directs and coordinates the statewide delivery of mental health services. Services are provided at the county level and reflect the needs of each community. Services may vary from county to county and typically include intake referral, mental health evaluation and assessment, outpatient treatment, day treatment, residential placement, and case management services provided by a wide range of mental health professionals and paraprofessionals.

Assessments are conducted to determine the need for mental health services and to determine whether services from the county mental health departments or other community agencies are most appropriate. Programs provided by county mental health departments have typically focused on services for school-age children, adolescents, and adults with eligible conditions. However, services for families and infants and toddlers with disabilities, or at risk of a disability, may be provided in conjunction with other agencies and local early intervention services.

The county mental health department can provide local program information on public and private mental health services available in each county.

State Interagency Coordinating Council on Early Intervention

The State Interagency Coordinating Council (ICC) on Early Intervention assists and advises the Department of Developmental Services (DDS) concerning the statewide system of early intervention services. The ICC also assists DDS in achieving the full participation, cooperation, and coordination of appropriate public agencies that serve young children and their families. The ICC serves as a forum for public input from parents, service providers, service coordinators, and others about federal, State, or local policies that support the timely delivery of appropriate early intervention services.

Members of the ICC are appointed by the Governor. The council is comprised of parents of children with disabilities, early intervention service providers, health care professionals, state agency representatives, and others interested in early intervention. Meetings are held six times each year.

Other Resources

Training, Technical Assistance, and Resources

The following statewide resource projects provide training, technical assistance, program and staff development resources, family education resources, and support for various aspects of California Early Start.

California Early Intervention
Technical Assistance Network
WestEd Center for Prevention and Early Intervention
429 J Street
Sacramento, CA 95814

Under the direction of the Department of Developmental Services (DDS), the California Early Intervention Technical Assistance Network (CEITAN) provides training, technical assistance, and support to agencies and programs regarding the Early Start system for infants and toddlers with disabilities and their families.

CEITAN facilitates the implementation of a statewide comprehensive system of personnel development (CSPD) for Early Start. CEITAN coordinates with colleges, universities, professional organizations, Part B CSPD activities, and other personnel development providers to enhance training opportunities in the field of early intervention.

Early Start Statewide Institutes and Special Topic Trainings

- address early intervention competencies for professionals in three core content areas
- service coordination trainings: foundation and advanced
- annual Family Resource Centers and Networks Conference

California Early Start Personnel Development Scholarship Fund

- supports professional development for personnel who provide early intervention services

Community College Paraprofessional Preparation Project

- developing a comprehensive curriculum for persons interested in working with infants, toddlers, and young children with disabilities through a network of community college child development programs (see listing on page 71)

Early Start Consultant Network

- provides technical assistance in CSPD product development, the monitoring process, and on other State priority projects

Early Start Resources (ESR), a special project of DDS, facilitates implementation of Early Start statewide public awareness activities including targeted outreach to specific populations. Under the direction of DDS, ESR produces and disseminates a variety of public awareness and outreach materials and products that promote Early Start. Multilingual materials are available for parents, healthcare providers, and early intervention professionals.

ESR also offers statewide access to the Early Start Library, which houses more than 4,000 early intervention resources including books, research reports, training videos, and support materials.

Resource assistance, including linkage and referral, is also provided.

Advocacy Organizations

California State Council on Developmental Disabilities

The California State Council on Developmental Disabilities (SCDD) is a federally funded independent state agency established in federal and state law to assist in planning, coordinating, monitoring, and evaluating services for individuals with developmental disabilities and their families. The council sponsors families to attend events or activities related to empowerment.
